I am in love with this little light. I purchased it for myself because I have a huge purse that I always loose my keys in. I thought this would be perfect! But as soon as my 3 year old saw it she fell in love with it and stole it. She has nightmares at night and is really afraid of the dark. She has been sleeping with this little light for over a month and with all her movement turning it on it still has not died! So great battery life. It is bright beautiful, and fun. I don't reccomend using it as a night light since it is bright and will most likely wake your child up, but my little girl sure loves it,

So far this has been a big hit with my wife!

Light is very bright especially for a closed system as even a large purse. My wife has told me she is already to the point of buying one for several different people as Birthday or Christmas gifts - would make a perfect stocking stuffer for example.
